Places to visit - Steyning

Steyning is one of the prettiest Sussex towns. It has more or less everything - a fine high street, historic buildings, good shops and lovely countryside nearby.

Steying is one of the few places where there seem to be more independent retailers than high street chains. While you might not find many things that can't be bought elsewhere, shopping in Steying is easy paced and enjoyable as a consequence of this variety of old-fashioned and more modern small shops.

Steining Museum in Church Street is interesting and worth a visit.

The interior of the St Andrew's Church is also interesting with Norman carvings and other treasures on show.

Places to visit - Rottingdean

Rottingdean, a Sussex village within the City of Brighton and Hove, developed as a small community around the pond in Saxon times and its name means 'the village of Rota's people'. The domesday book records that the land was given to William de Warrenne the Lord of Lewes as a reward for his support at the Battle of Hastings. For centuries it remained an isolated rural farming settlement and only became accessible as the coastal road from Brighton improved.

Towards the end of the 19th century it offered seclusion and inspiration for many artists, writers and public figures, factors which influence both residents and visitors to this day. The main attractions in the town are Kipling's Garden, Rottingdean Windmill, St. Margaret's Church with its beautiful stained glass windows and some traditional old inns which were once frequented by smugglers in the area.
